Little birds are singing; lovely flowers grow. The yellow sun has reappeared and melted all the snow. Kites fly in the blue sky; sailboats breeze across the lake.

Families picnic by the shore; the world has come awake. Winter-time is over for yet another year. Now it's time to celebrate—the spring is finally here!