

Spring Time

Kim Ashbaugh

Janice Sherwin

A E7 A D  $\frac{A}{C\#}$

Lit - tle birds are sing - ing; love - ly flow - ers grow. The yel - low sun has re - ap - peared and

The first system of music is in 4/4 time with a key signature of three sharps (F#, C#, G#). The melody is written in the treble clef and the bass line in the bass clef. The lyrics are: "Lit - tle birds are sing - ing; love - ly flow - ers grow. The yel - low sun has re - ap - peared and".

B7sus4 B7 E D C#m Bm7 A melt - ed all the snow. Kites fly in the blue sky; sail - boats breeze a - cross the lake.

The second system of music continues the melody and bass line. The lyrics are: "melt - ed all the snow. Kites fly in the blue sky; sail - boats breeze a - cross the lake."

B7 E F#m  $\frac{C\#m}{E}$

Fam - lies pic - nic by the shore; the world has come a - wake. Win - ter - time is o - ver for

The third system of music continues the melody and bass line. The lyrics are: "Fam - lies pic - nic by the shore; the world has come a - wake. Win - ter - time is o - ver for".

D  $\frac{A}{C\#}$  N.C. D E7 A yet an - oth - er year. Now it's time to cel - e - brate—the spring is fin - ly here!

The fourth system of music concludes the piece. The lyrics are: "yet an - oth - er year. Now it's time to cel - e - brate—the spring is fin - ly here!".