when using the Fourth Edition of the Bible 5 Curriculum

Use the Bible 5 Journal to develop students' ability to personalize the truths and lessons of the Bible through thought-provoking discussion questions and creative activities.

- Archaeology theme provokes interest exploring the treasures contained in Scripture
- Weekly reminders provide daily Bible reading opportunities
- Journal entries prompt digging deeper into God's Word
- End-of-series "Assemblage Analysis" allows for biblical worldview development
- Creative writing and drawing opportunities designed for independent completion
- Decorative verse pages make key concepts memorable

Overview

A Bible journal is a wonderful way for students not only to recall the facts of the Bible lessons taught throughout the week but also to apply the accompanying biblical principles to their personal lives. The Bible 5 Journal uses an intriguing archaeological theme to help students dig into the Word of God for themselves.

The Bible 5 Journal can be used once or twice a week in conjunction with a mid-series cumulative review or at the end of a series. Each entry provides a unique opportunity for students to express what they are learning and for you to informally assess their understanding of the lessons and truths covered. Adjust the curriculum if needed to allow sufficient time for journal work and discussion. Depending on the time available, you may want to pre-select questions to cover.

Entries include Bible Reading, Beneath the Surface, Looking Back, Observations, and Daily Living sections. Students can complete the Bible reading throughout the week before the journal entry is assigned. The passages correlate with each lesson series (e.g. Salvation Series) and can be read at a time that works in your schedule. This is an opportunity to help students develop consistency in reading God's Word and having a personal time with God each day.

The weekly entry begins with Beneath the Surface and Looking Back sections. The Observations section begins with the recall of facts and then leads students to see that Bible men and women were ordinary people that God used to accomplish His will. This will lead to personal applications as they discover how God's Word affects their life today. The journal also helps to establish a firm biblical worldview by asking students to consider current situations and how they should react based upon Bible principles. Throughout the journal, they will be asked to give their opinion based upon Scripture and what they have been learning. In these cases, there is not necessarily one correct answer. Encourage them to share their thoughts.

At the end of each lesson series (e.g. Life of Moses, Series 1—Moses in Egypt), there is an additional section entitled Assemblage Analysis. The Assemblage Analysis ties the entire series together with important takeaway thoughts and biblical application questions.

The Assemblage Analysis section ends with a Creative Writing/Profile Drawing section, giving students the opportunity to creatively consider an aspect from the lessons covered. The final page is a decorative verse page highlighting a key verse related to the lessons with a sketch that can be colored.

Salvation Series

Journal Entry Number	Suggested Lesson Number *	Series Lessons Covered **
—	L 6	Salvation Series —Lessons 1–5 (Heaven, a Beautiful Home; Adam, How Sin Began; Crucifixion of Christ; Resurrection of Christ; How to Grow Spiritually)

*These lesson numbers correlate with the Bible 5 Curriculum and the Bible 5 video lessons from Abeka Academy.

These series lessons are found in the Flash-a-Card Bible Story Series.

Note: Optional Activities are included in the back of the Bible 5 Journal and designed to be used throughout the year. Use “God’s Plan of Salvation” when desired to give students an opportunity to express their understanding of God’s gift of redemption and how to receive it. Use “My Testimony” when desired to give students an opportunity to express their own salvation story if they have trusted Christ as Savior. Use “Lessons Learned” frequently to give students an opportunity to record special truths and personal application from throughout the year.
